Introduction: what a publication scheme is and why it has been developed

One of the aims of the Freedom of Information Act 2000 (hereafter referred to as FoIA) is that public authorities, including the Mid-Trent Multi Academy Trust (hereafter referred to as 'The Trust'), should be clear and proactive about the information they will make public.

This guidance gives examples of the kinds of information that the Information Commissioner's Office (ICO) would expect Trust schools to provide in order to meet their commitments under their model publication scheme.

To do this a publication scheme must be provided by the Trust which sets out:

- The classes of information which we publish or intend to publish;
- The manner in which the information will be published; and
- Whether the information is available free of charge or on payment.

The ICO would expect The Trust to make the information in this document available unless:

- It does not hold the information;
- The information is exempt under one of the FOI exemptions or Environmental Information Regulations (EIRs) exceptions or its release is prohibited under another statute;
- The information is archived, out of date or otherwise inaccessible; or,
- It would be impractical or resource-intensive to prepare the material for routine release.

This scheme covers information already published and information which is to be published in the future. All information in this publication scheme is available on the Trust and/or individual school website/s to download and print off or available in hard copy. Some information which the Trust holds may not be made public, e.g. personal information.

This publication scheme conforms to the latest model scheme for schools approved by the Information Commissioner.

The Trust endeavours to make as much information as possible available online. If any of the information is not available online, the scheme will explain how it can be accessed. The Trust will continue to develop this scheme to increase the amount of information that can be accessed through it.

Trust schools do not charge for information which is accessed on its websites. However, costs for reproducing information or providing it in alternative formats may be passed on. There may also be a charge for some specialist information services. Details of these costs are included in the Trust Charges and Remissions policy.
